Fruit Factory, £19.99

WHEN you have a two-year-old whose choice of food would be cake, cake and more cake - you need help!

And that's where the Let's Cook Fruit Factory comes in. This super dooper blender lets your stubborn youngster get their five portions a day and have fun at the same time.

For it turns fruit into healthy juice and smoothies or if that doesn't impress the little one, you can use the special lolly cases and make some fantastic ice wonders which are packed with goodness and fun to make at the same time!

The blender is ideal for children aged five-years-old and over and is a great way of introducing your children to the delights of cooking. Who knows, you might have the next Jamie Oliver on your hands!

Our future. It's in our hands.

Luggage
Trunki Luggage for Children,

THERE is nothing worse than having to try and fit all your clothes and your children's into a suitcase which won't break your arm as you try to carry it in the airport. Especially when your toddler then wants to try and help push it along.

Designer Rob Law had the same problem himself and did something about it. He came up with the Trunki range of luggage, which is especially for youngsters and luggage which your child can sit on as you whizz along to catch your flight!

The suitcases range from Harley which looks like a ladybird to Tippu the Tiger. Plain ones for boys come in the shape of Terrance, with Trixie for the girls and Towgo, a unisex one. Prices range from £34.25 to £29.35. Made of bright, durable plastic, the suitcases feature locking catches, teddy bear seatbelts, carry straps and even a sweet compartment! All your travel problems are over.

Clothes

Babies in Sheep's Clothing,

THIS product does just what it says on the tin. You always want the best for your children and clothes are no exception. And this firm's products are the best. They are all hand-made from natural fibres, carefully sourced lambskin and merino wool from New Zealand and environmentally friendly.

They are made to last which means they can be passed down from one child to the next. The lambskin is vegetable dyed so they can go next to a baby's and toddler's skin without being toxic or irritating and quite simply they are just adorable! The firm, founded by Lysette Parbhus has a large range of Ugg style booties and slippers from newborns to three-year-olds, traditional elasticated ankle booties for newborns to 18 months, plus mittens, hats, gilets and jackets for the wee ones.

The firm also is the exclusive stockist of Weebits hand-made merino range in the UK and are classic styled and beautifully made. Prices range from £19.50 for newborn slippers to £59.95 for a lovingly made travel rug. So dip into the website and see what is on offer, if only to drool!

DVD

Teletubbies, Ready Steady, released on September 7th, by BBC Children's DVD, £9.99,

THE Teletubbies are back, but not as you know them. For the first time ever, the Teletubbies have been animated for a special DVD feature on "Ready Steady Dance", from BBC Children's DVD. Boogie on down with Tinky Winky, Dipsy, Laa-Laa and Po in a specially produced, never before seen flash animated video exclusive of "Follow My Leader", one of three special dancing DVD extras. The DVD also contains two well loved live action favourites "Dance with the Teletubbies", and "Ready Steady Go", episodes your little one will want to watch again and again. Intent on replicating the success of their massive No. 1 hit 'Teletubbies say Eh-Oh'— Tinky Winky, Dispy, Laa Laa and Po have confirmed the release of a brand new digital single and video – 'Follow My Leader'. Their new material will be available to download from iTunes and other leading digital stores from August 24th, followed by the re-release of their hugely successful album on September 7th, which will feature bonus remixes. Dance is great exercise and good for physical coordination. But another key benefit of seeing the Teletubbies dance is that it gives children the confidence to express themselves. Children who join in the fun develop the self-belief to explore the world around them. Join in the dancing fun with the following funky episodes on "Ready Steady Dance":

Dance with the Teletubbies - Tinky Winky, Dipsy, Laa-Laa and Po just love to dance. When the wind blows and the magic windmill turns, it's time for the Teletubbies to connect with the world of real children who also love to dance! Ready Steady Go! -Dance and sing with the Teletubbies as they learn "Heads, Shoulders, Knees and Toes", play copying games, do exercises and discover how their bodies can move. Extras - Brand new flash animated video to accompany "Follow My Leader" plus "All Sorts" and "Bendy" live action dances.
